

Aries

MARCH 21-APRIL 19

The star-sign of initiation, you come into your own this year and will most probably blaze a trail.

From March 1st, Neptune and Saturn in your sign gift you the potential to become anything you wish, so why box yourself in?

We're talking revolution here, and a sense of freedom. Both feel amazing. Then there's your tenacity. How you run with all of this and see things through will amaze others.

Your potential for growth and change applies across the board, and this could be love and relationships, career, or added oomph for something growing stronger within yourself that slumbered for many years.

This is about stepping into your potential and being the best version of yourself. Sounds heavy, huh? That's just the way you work sometimes, and you always like to be first.

From the start of April, the move of Uranus into Gemini sends your mind buzzing with all kinds of wonderful ideas.

Then there's the shift of love and passion planet, Venus, into Leo in August. It brings sparkling romance results, and we're talking fun and possible new encounters here. Even if you feel you've given up on romance, you'll feel part of something thrilling.

This is as much about friendship as it is love and romance, setting up a summer when fantastic memories are made. It's up to you to help the revolution along and not stand still, and the luck and the real potential reward starts in July, when Jupiter moves into your sister sign of Leo, setting fun and creativity on fire.

Did you imagine that this would be the kind of year when everything just happens out of the blue? Well, it's not. You've waited a long time for this, and you will prove yourself beyond belief, not just this year, but in the next two to come.

It's up to you to help the revolution along

Taurus

APRIL 20-MAY 20

You must take a leap of faith and surprise yourself

Uranus entered your sign in May 2018 and will leave in April 2026. Get ready to start looking back over the past eight years or so and at all the winds of change that blew through your life. Some gentle breezes, others more like tempests.

We'll see such fire, determination and revolution in your thought processes about money, business, work and where you're heading this year.

We all know how much you like a plan, and those that you made last summer stand a pretty good chance of blossoming this year and thank goodness, after all that hard graft in 2025.

Is this to do with work or investments? Possibly, although you mustn't let any details fall through the cracks. Uranus and Pluto will bring revolution and new beginnings that not even you, the first of the earth signs who enjoys life 'just so', can escape.

You always think about the long term and are not one to jump in with both feet or overspeculate. This natural caution and hesitancy can stall you and drive you up the wall at the same time, maybe because you feel it holds you back.

Because this is the starting point of a new beginning, you must take a leap of faith and surprise yourself. The move of Uranus into Gemini in April puts the accent on finance and success and Jupiter's move into Leo in June lights up yet another new way forward.

There will be a shift in how you think and feel, helping you to get to grips with what you want from the world.

Venus helps you at all points to love with all your heart, enjoy being over the top, and look for reward, and by the end of 2026, you will be gifted all that you said you could receive and prove to the world your worth at the same time. Well done, you!

Gemini

MAY 21-JUNE 21

This year's cosmic gift to you is your ability to be seen and recognised for a long time to come. Yes, you're in thinking mode in 2026, and your ideas leave others standing in your dust.

We're not just talking honeyed words here either, because this is the year you mean business.

It's as much about seeing the bigger picture as it is the grassroots. To be able to handle both practical matters and emotions will be one of your most stunning achievements, seeing as the two seem to go hand in hand beneath this powerful sky.

Once Uranus hits your sign in April, the pace of life accelerates, and this is exciting because 2025 was all about the planning, while this year brings dramatic, fast-paced results.

Mercury, your ruling planet, will go backwards three times in 2026 (early March, July and late October), so please watch out for who you're dealing with when it does, because there could be some slippery characters around.

But the universe will give you plenty of warning – that's how far ahead of the curve you are.

Then we have Jupiter's move into Leo in June, wonderful for connecting with people, or you might need some rest as far as your head is concerned because it's so far-reaching and dramatic. Getting some sleep might be one of your issues if you don't learn to relax a bit in between, because insomnia can be a problem for you.

But one thing's for sure, the emotional insecurity of the previous year will be banished for good, replaced by a more balanced and trusting self.

Jupiter will help you connect with people again, family and friends and seemingly being in two places at once is something only you can pull off.

Your ideas leave others standing in your dust

Cancer

JUNE 22-JULY 22

Old ways are not sitting well with you any longer

Saturn in your sister sign of Pisces until mid-February means that you could be holding on to slight martyrdom, which has never been a good look for you. Try to let any such urges wash over you.

Once we see Uranus shift into Aries in April, you become very career-focused, and your potential will be mind-blowing. This kind of energy has already had a foothold in your life since early 2025, and people have probably told you that you should be doing something different that better reflects where you want to be in life.

So now it's down to you to make the choices that will be yours for the taking this year.

The eclipse on February 17 in Aquarius, next to Pluto, will show you that this is all about revolution and new beginnings. The old ways are not sitting well with you any longer, and this stands for dramatic change across the board.

The eclipse in Leo on August 12 is equally as big, and you will have, leading up to this, the energy to put into place what you wish to change – whether that's family, your home, or relationships.

With gifting planet Jupiter in your sign until June, you can fully expect that your life will be taken to new heights. Jupiter will also take you to a place of understanding that you need, helping others tune into you more.

Please don't imagine that the world is cruel, because this is not about pulling the duvet over your head. This is about standing up and being counted, so go forward and think on your feet and the same type of energy will echo back to you.

When Jupiter arrives in Leo in June, it sets up so much in the realm of money and opportunity, and security is and always has been a big deal for you. You're coming up trumps after what has been nearly a decade in the making.
