

Sagittarius

NOVEMBER 22-DECEMBER 21

It might feel like everyone is hanging on the cross and going to great pains to play the martyr at the start of the year, and you might get sucked in by this and feel as if it's testing your limits and boundaries.

This all changes after February, when the world starts turning in a way that you feel is fairer, lighter, and more balanced.

You're getting on board with the revolution that's in the air, as it's an adventure if nothing else, but you also know that you can make a difference in what I know will be an immensely creative year for you.

Remember who you are if your emotional or financial security is threatened at any point in 2026, as there is always something new to look for and find by way of opportunity.

As the sign of the voyager, there are always loads of adventures ahead for you, some blatantly obvious, others more subtle, but all wonderful and enriching in their own ways.

Once Uranus moves into your opposite sign, Gemini, in April, you must anticipate things happening at the drop of a hat. Because of that strong sense of creativity within you, you'll conjure up your own form of magic, and this especially applies to your decision-making process.

You often have the power of prophecy, if only others would listen. Perhaps this is your challenge this year – to convey your message at the right time and to the right audience, and without sounding preachy?

Be on the lookout for career opportunities that take you to heights you never imagined you could reach, or have you reached the top, and now need to go in a new direction?

You need life to have meaning, and something you can grasp, so that you can always make an impact in whichever world you wish to live in, and you'll do it.

There are loads of adventures ahead for you

Capricorn

DECEMBER 22-JANUARY 19

What you set up could last for many years to come

You don't easily give away what you're thinking, and this is the year to keep everybody guessing. It's happy birthday to you at the start of the year, a time to plan what you want 2026 to yield, as you visualise your potential achievements, of which there'll be many, of course.

Two planets commanded starring roles in your life last year, and they continue to do so in 2026. Your ruler, Saturn, and dreamy Neptune are both in Aries in 2026. One represents order, the other chaos, so they're unlikely bedfellows, but big motivators for you in the next 12 months.

You're the all-or-nothing type, and you like to plan and lay foundations, and this year is not so much about galloping ahead but rather planning where you wish these new beginnings to take you.

These planets aid and abet you so resourcefully and beautifully. What you set up this year could last for many years to come. Crisp, clean decisions build strong foundations, and you've no time for timewasters.

All this activity may be kept private, hence the keeping people guessing part, because we're talking about a keep-it-to-yourself kind of energy here, and you often like playing your cards close to your chest.

Meanwhile, Pluto in Aquarius wishes to gift you a wealth of opportunities in the outside world, which you attract by knowing your worth and radiating it.

You'll show the collective your sense of tradition, style, and ability to achieve many things with those Capricorn nods to continuity.

Jupiter's move into Leo in June helps you demonstrate your ability to think ahead and come up with some great ideas. This could be a totally different road you take, and one that could be truly transformative in the long term when it comes to shared finance.

Aquarius

JANUARY 20-FEBRUARY 18

You're the star sign that represents revolution, and that's what's in the air because of what Pluto does in your sign. This is your year, Aquarius.

The sun gets involved around January 26, and this is about transformation and you stepping into the leadership role the cosmos has cast you in. Deep energies empower you, and this is about the end of the old and the rebirth of the new.

After the eclipse on February 17, you're going to realise that others are around to help you and that people matter. You can still have your recharge time alone, but there's something about being surrounded by a buzz that is just as uplifting for you.

Jupiter's June move opens your life and emphasises relationships, even marriage. Merging with new people and being ardently driven to challenge yourself could also be helped by others. This planet is standing by to bring luck with both finance and people.

Prepare to meet head-on that stronger need within you to get to the bottom of what needs to be transformed – not only in your life, but in the lives of others. It's destiny planet Pluto we're dealing with here, so this is no time for looking the other way from the elements of your life that are now quite possibly way past their sell-by date.

The other side of the coin is that this planet's energy will exalt your talents and your ability to see the bigger picture long term.

Time to learn to trust yourself because no challenge will prove too great to overcome, and a new person will emerge from being forged in this fire.

The rest of us follow you, the most avant-garde and futuristic star-sign, so take this in your stride, and please allow the comedic side of your nature to shine through at the same time by not barricading your emotions.

FEBRUARY 19-MARCH 20

Get ready to embrace, create and manifest in 2026

Your sign rules karma, and this is a karmic year for you. Echoes from the past come back to be reckoned with and moved on from. Get ready for a clean slate and new beginnings.

Money, possessions and success in these areas are big themes for you in 2026, as your ruler, Neptune, together with Saturn, bats for you and brings the material world into view in ways that feel more tangible. This could be equally about a creative vision taking shape.

The flipside of this energy is the exaltation of self-worth and the other types of gifts and rewards the world can bring you, as the enrichments to come, as always with you, have a strong spiritual dimension attached.

Get ready to embrace, create and manifest.

From the summertime and Jupiter's move into Leo, you can start thinking more positively about working connections and further building wealth, but, as I said, this remains a karmic year. So, this is always going to be brought about with care and attention, and when plans are executed properly, fairly and communicatively, that's when you'll see lasting rewards.

Perhaps your patience will be tested, or maybe your limits, and yet the learning here is being true to your serene self and understanding the motives behind it, rather than reacting.

You can say goodbye to the old and turn a new page for new beginnings. But floating away from reality doesn't really work, as you've learned, and Pluto in Aquarius and Uranus in Gemini show you the opportunity through clear thought rather than flights of fancy and imagination.

Your sensitivity, intuitive powers and healing ability make you such a visionary, and if you build it, they will come. But if you're too sensitive along the way, you might find that you alienate yourself. We're all on our own journey, so join in with the world in the same spirit of acceptance you expect from others.
